PROTOTYPE AND BACKGROUND INFO:

20ft refrigerated containers such as these are commonly used for the transportation of temperature-sensitive products. Constructed mostly of aluminum, the container's walls also incorporate thick insulation to help maintain a controlled temperature. For road transport of these containers, special 20' container chassis are used.

CONTAINER MODEL FEATURES:

- Highly-detailed, injection-molded body
- Decorated models fully-assembled and ready to run out of the package
- Different container number from 3-Packs
